FOREWARD

The year starting from April 2021 was indeed full of challenges. The covid19 crisis had already gripped the country in its first year in 2020, however the situation recurred in 2021 as well. The pandemic led to health emergency in the country and had devastating impact on every aspect of human life (social, economic, physical and mental health, educational etc.) April is generally the time for beginning of implementation of various welfare schemes by the government and the civil society organizations. Unfortunately the pandemic in a way stalled many such initiatives and also slowed down the momentum of several other social initiatives of the social developmental organizations. In the second year of the pandemic it was difficult to get back life on track as the pandemic affected the education and livelihood to great extent. Adding to this was a great shock not just to CSS, but to Jharkhand and the State as well when we lost our then President (now Padmashree) Dr. Giridhari Ram Gounjhu, along with several other personalities of the social service sector.

Meanwhile, the challenges and issues of women and persons with disabilities severed during the pandemic. CSS, however, extends gratitude towards the donors and partners, who supported the organisation to respond to the pandemic along with continuing its initiatives for the betterment of the marginalized and the most vulnerable groups of the society. Specifically, CSS thanks Girls First Fund and Capital for Good USA for the partnership in empowerment of girls and combating child marriage. We thank Andheri Hilfe for supporting our new initiatives towards women empowerment and gender equality.

One of the significant developments that happened during this period was the emergence of virtual communication as an effective communication method. At a time when physical offices were closed, mobility and public gatherings were restricted, there was no other way but to adapt this mode of communication. This has certainly brought a significant change in the communication and documentation

One of the major project 'Community based Rehabilitation of Persons with Disabilities' which was based in ratu, Kanke and Ormanjhi blocks of Ranchi successfully ended in Dec. 2021. We are thankful to CBM for supporting this 5 year project.

It was certainly a challenge to carry out the project activities during the lockdown, but on the other side, the situation has offered many learnings as well. We are grateful to all our donors and partners(Andheri Hilfe, Stichting Kinderpostzegels Nederland, Girls First Fund, CBM, Childline India Foundation), well-wishers and the entire community who have stood by us and kept faith in us and supported our efforts and initiatives. I express sincere gratitude to the CSS Board for their constant support and belief in all the initiatives of CSS.

With best wishes,

Dr. SachiKumari
Secretary
